About Me

Tina Alberni is an accomplished artist based in Charlotte, North Carolina. Tina has a diverse artistic background shaped by her upbringing in Puerto Rico, Colombia, and Miami. She holds a bachelor's degree in art education with concentration in print-making from Florida International University.

With over 30 years of experience, Tina has exhibited her work extensively in the United States and abroad, participating in more than 100 solo, group, and virtual shows. Her art has garnered recognition and awards, including grants from the Charlotte Arts and Science Council. Tina's pieces have been featured publicly on digital billboards during events like Miami Art Basel, The Foundry in Dubai and at prominent design malls in Vienna, Austria. Her work spans various mediums and genres, reflecting her vibrant heritage through bold colors and rich narratives.

Tina works in a variety of mediums, and varies her approach from one collection to another.

Her art explores themes such as climate change, endangered animals, human emotions, and the impact of technology. She is currently focusing on her studio practice and exploring the realms of AI, AR, and digital collectibles (NFTs) to establish meaningful connections with a broader audience.

Alberni has exhibited in several countries, participating in 100+ solo, group & virtual shows over the last 3 decades
